Ajloun Nature Reserve

Ajloun Nature Reserve is a beautiful and interesting place. It is in the Ajloun mountains north of Amman. B There are hills and valleys, and wonderful old forests. Lots of wild flowers grow in the forests, including the block iris, Jordan's national flower. Ajloun's trees are important because birds live in them, and animals eat the leaves. C The reserve is a beautiful place because people protect the forests and the trees.

Many different birds and animals live in the Ajloun forests. B Roe deer were endangered but now they live in the Ajloun forests because they are safe here. People can't hunt them here. Visitors can see squirrels, foxes and hyenas, too. Today, many animals live safely in the forest.

A Visitors come to Ajloun to see the animals and the beautiful countryside. They can go hiking. There aren’t any big hotels in Ajloun and they won't build big hotels in the future. Visitors stay in small houses. The houses are made of wood. B People are careful when they come to Ajloun. They don't drop rubbish or pick flowers, so Ajloun will always be a beautiful place. Ajloun Nature Reserve is a very important place because it protects endangered animals, important trees and wild flowers. People will always want to visit Ajloun!
